(HONORABLE JANIS L. SAMMARTINO)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

CRECENCIO PADILLA-BAUTISTA

Defendant.

CASE NO.: 08-CR-0205-JLS

DATE: February 22, 2008

TIME: 1:30 p.m.

STATEMENT OF FACTS AND MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND
AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTIONS

I.

STATEMENT OF FACTS<sup>1</sup>

On Wednesday December 26, 2007, Border Patrol Agent A Reyes was performing line watch duties near Campo, California. At approximately 11:30 a.m., Agent Reyes observed a group of suspected undocumented aliens about 50 yards north of the international border with Mexico in an area known as Zuellner's Gulley. Agent Reyes followed footprints for about fifteen minutes before locating a group of people hiding near State Route 94.

Agent Reyes identified himself as a Border Patrol Agent and began to interrogate the suspected aliens, including Crecencio Padilla-Bautista. All of the suspected aliens admitted to being citizens and nationals of Mexico illegally present in the United States. All suspected aliens were placed under arrest and

1. The following is based primarily upon information supplied through Government discovery. Mr. Padilla-Bautista does not stipulate to its accuracy and reserves the right to challenge it at future proceedings.

1 transported to the Border Patrol Processing Facility at Tecate, California.

2 At the processing center, Mr. Padilla-Bautista's fingerprints were collected and processed through 3 the DHS biometric system for a record check.

4 At approximately 4:13 p.m., Senior Patrol Agent Richard Amezcua initiated a videotaped interview
5 with Mr. Padilla-Bautista, during which Agent Reyes advised Mr. Padilla-Bautista of his rights pursuant to 6 Miranda in the Spanish language. Mr. Padilla-Bautista is alleged to have made inculpatory statements 7 during this interview.

8 On January 24, 2008, an Indictment was handed down charging Ms. Padilla-Bautista with violating 9 8 U.S.C. §1326 (a) and (b), deported alien found in the United States who had been removed subsequent to 10 August 6, 2007.

11 These motions follow.

12 II.

13 MOTION TO COMPEL DISCOVERY/PRESERVE EVIDENCE

14 Mr. Padilla-Bautista moves for the production of the following discovery. This request is not 15 limited to those items that the prosecutor knows of, but rather includes all discovery listed below that is in 16 the custody, control, care, or knowledge of any "closely related investigative [or other] agencies." See 17 United States v. Bryan, 868 F.2d 1032 (9th Cir. 1989).

18 To date, defense counsel has received only 26 pages of discovery. Mr. Padilla-Bautista respectfully
19 requests that the Government be ordered to produce discovery because Mr. Padilla-Bautista has reason to 20 believe that he has not received all the discoverable material in his case. Ms. Padilla-Bautista specifically 21 requests production of a copy of the taped proceedings and any and all documents memorializing the 22 deportation proceeding allegedly held and any other proceedings that the Government intends to rely 23 upon at trial. This request includes discovery of materials known to the Government attorney, as well as 24 discovery of materials which the Government attorney may become aware of through the exercise of due 25 diligence. See FED. R. CRIM. P. 16.

26 Mr. Padilla-Bautista has also not received a full copy of his A-file. Mr. Padilla-Bautista specifically 27 requests the documents memorializing the alleged deportation proceedings and any other proceedings that 28 the Government intends to rely upon at trial.

1 Mr. Padilla-Bautista additionally requests that the Court order the Government to allow him the 2 opportunity to review her A-file in its entirety. First, the A-file contains documentation concerning his
3 alleged deportation. Part of Mr. Padilla-Bautista defense may be that his underlying deportation was invalid.
4 The documents in the A-file would help illuminate the validity or futility of such a defense. For example,
5 A-file documents typically contain biographical information. Such information is essential to determining 6 whether Mr. Padilla-Bautista deportation was invalid.

7 Second, the Government will likely try to show at trial that a Government officer searched the A-file
8 and did not find an application by Mr. Padilla-Bautista for permission to enter the United States.
9 Mr. Padilla-Bautista anticipates that the Government will attempt to admit a “Certificate of Non-Existence 10 of Record” against him, arguing that if Mr. Padilla-Bautista had ever applied for permission to enter the 11 United States, such an application would be found in the A-file and because such an application is not in the 12 A-file, Mr. Padilla-Bautista must not have applied for permission to enter the United States.

13 Although the certificate might be admissible, the question of the thoroughness of the search
14 conducted by the Government of the A-file is, and should be, open to cross-examination. United States v.
15 Sager, 227 F.3d 1138, 1145 (2000) (error not to allow jury to “grade the investigation.”). Mr. Padilla-
16 Bautista should be able to review his A-file in order to see whether any application for lawful admission
17 exists. Moreover, Mr. Padilla-Bautista should also be able to verify whether other documents that would 18 ordinarily be in the A-file are “non-existent,” or otherwise missing from her A-file. Mr. Padilla-Bautista 19 may assert a defense that his application for lawful entry was lost or otherwise misplaced by the 20 Government. He must be allowed the opportunity to review his A-file and the manner in which it is being 21 maintained by the Government in order to present this defense.

22 In addition, Mr. Padilla-Bautista moves for the production of the following discovery:

23 1. Mr. Padilla-Bautista Statements. The Government must disclose to Mr. Padilla-Bautista all
24 copies of any written or recorded statements made by Mr. Padilla-Bautista; the substance of any statements
25 made by Mr. Padilla-Bautista which the Government intends to offer in evidence at trial; any response by 26 Mr. Padilla-Bautista to interrogation; the substance of any oral statements which the Government intends 27 to introduce at trial and any written summaries of Mr. Padilla-Bautista oral statements contained in the 28 handwritten notes of the Government agent; any response to any Miranda warnings which may have been given to Mr. Padilla-Bautista; as well as any other statements attributed to Mr. Padilla-Bautista. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(A). The Advisory Committee Notes and the 1991 amendments to Rule 16 make clear that the Government must reveal all of Mr. Padilla-Bautista statements, whether written or oral, regardless of whether the Government intends to make any use of those statements. Mr. Padilla-Bautista specifically requests all audio and videotaped copies of his statements and any rough notes taken pertaining to the substance of his statements Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests that the government provide him with a court-certified transcript of the compact disc depicting Mr. Padilla-Bautista's post-arrest interrogation by the agents.

2. Arrest Reports, Notes and Dispatch Tapes. Mr. Padilla-Bautista also specifically requests the Government to turn over all arrest reports, notes, dispatch or any other tapes, and TECS records that relate to the circumstances surrounding his arrest or any questioning. This request includes, but is not limited to, any rough notes, records, reports, transcripts or other documents in which statements of Mr. Padilla-Bautista or any other discoverable material is contained. Such material is discoverable under FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(A) and Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). The Government must produce arrest reports, investigator's notes, memos from arresting officers, dispatch tapes, sworn statements, and prosecution reports pertaining to Mr. Padilla-Bautista. See FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(B) and (c), FED. R. CRIM. P. 26.2 and 12(i).

3. Brady Material. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests all documents, statements, agents' reports, and tangible evidence favorable to Mr. Padilla-Bautista on the issue of guilt and/or which affects the credibility of the Government's witnesses and the Government's case. Under Brady, impeachment as well as exculpatory evidence falls within the definition of evidence favorable to the accused. United States v. Bagley, 473 U.S. 667 (1985); United States v. Agurs, 427 U.S. 97 (1976).

4. Any Information That May Result in a Lower Sentence Under The Guidelines. Notwithstanding the advisory nature of the sentencing guidelines, the Government must produce this information under Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), because it is exculpatory and/or mitigating evidence relevant to a possible future determination with respect to sentencing.

5. Mr. Padilla-Bautista Prior Record. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests disclosure of his prior record. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(B).

1       6. Any Proposed 404(b) Evidence. Evidence of prior similar acts is discoverable under Fed. R.
 2       Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(c) and Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) and 609. In addition, under Fed. R. Evid. 404(b), “upon
 3       request of the accused, the prosecution . . . shall provide reasonable notice in advance of trial . . . of the 4       general nature . . . .” of any evidence the government proposes to introduce under Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) at 5       trial. Sufficient notice requires the government to “articulate precisely the evidential hypothesis by which 6       a fact of consequence may be inferred from the other acts evidence.” United States v. Mehrmanesh, 689 F.2d
 7       822, 830 (9th Cir. 1982) (emphasis added; internal citations omitted); see also United States v. Brooke, 4
 8       F.3d 1480, 1483 (9th Cir. 1993) (reaffirming Mehrmanesh and reversing convictions).

9       This request includes any “TECS” records as well as any other record(s) of prior border crossings
 10       (voluntary entries) that the Government intends to introduce at trial, whether in its case-in-chief, as 11       impeachment, or in its rebuttal case. Although there is nothing intrinsically improper about prior border
 12       crossings (except, as here, where there are allegations of undocumented status), they are nonetheless subject
 13       to 404(b), as they are “other acts” evidence that the government must produce before trial. United States
 14       v. Vega, 188 F.3d 1150, 1154-1155 (9th Cir. 1999).

15       The defendant requests that such notice be given three weeks before trial to give the defense time 16       to adequately investigate and prepare for trial.

17       7. Evidence Seized. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests production of evidence seized as a result of any 18       search, either warrantless or with a warrant. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(c).

19       8. Request for Preservation of Evidence. Mr. Padilla-Bautista specifically requests the 20       preservation of all physical evidence that may be destroyed, lost, or otherwise put out of the possession,
 21       custody, or care of the Government and which relates to the arrest or the events leading to the arrest in this
 22       case. This request includes, but is not limited to, the results of any fingerprint analysis, Mr. Padilla-Bautista
 23       personal effects, and any evidence seized from Mr. Padilla-Bautista.

24       9. Henthorn Material. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests that the Assistant United States Attorney
 25       (“AUSA”) assigned to this case oversee (not personally conduct) a review of all personnel files of each agent
 26       involved in the present case for impeachment material. See Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419 (1995) (holding 27       that “the individual prosecutor has a duty to learn of any favorable evidence known to the others acting on 28       the Government’s behalf in the case, including the police”); United States v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir.

1 1991); United States v. Jennings, 960 F.2d 1488 (9th Cir. 1992) (AUSA may not be ordered to personally
2 conduct examination of records; appropriate Government agency may review files and notify AUSA of 3 contents as long as AUSA makes the determination regarding material to be disclosed); United States v.
4 Herring, 83 F.3d 1120 (9th Cir. 1996) (accord).

5 10. Tangible Objects. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests the opportunity to inspect, copy, and test, as 6 necessary, all other documents and tangible objects, including photographs, books, papers, documents,
7 fingerprint analyses, or copies of portions thereof, which are material to the defense, intended for use in the 8 Government's case-in-chief, or were obtained from or belong to Mr. Padilla-Bautista. FED. R. CRIM. P.
9 16(a)(1)(c). Specifically, Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests copies of the audio tapes of his alleged prior 10 deportations or removals.

11 11. Expert Witnesses. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests the name, qualifications, and a written 12 summary of the testimony of any person that the Government intends to call as an expert witness during its 13 case in chief. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(E). The defense requests the notice of expert testimony be provided 14 at a minimum of two weeks prior to trial so that the defense can properly prepare to address and respond to 15 this testimony, including obtaining its own expert and/or investigating the opinions, credentials of the 16 Government's expert and a hearing in advance of trial to determine the admissibility of qualifications of any 17 expert. See Kumho Tire Co., Ltd. v. Carmichael, 526 U.S. 137, 152 (1999) (trial judge is "gatekeeper" and 18 must determine, reliability and relevancy of expert testimony and such determinations may require "special 19 briefing or other proceedings").

20 12. Evidence of Bias or Motive to Lie. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests any evidence that any 21 prospective Government witness is biased or prejudiced against Mr. Padilla-Bautista, or has a motive to 22 falsify or distort his or her testimony.

23 13. Impeachment Evidence. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests any evidence that any prospective
24 Government witness has engaged in any criminal act whether or not resulting in a conviction and whether 25 any witness has made a statement favorable to Mr. Padilla-Bautista. See FED. R. EVID. 608, 609 and 613;
26 Brady v. Maryland.

27 14. Evidence of Criminal Investigation of Any Government Witness. Mr. Padilla-Bautista
28 requests any evidence that any prospective witness is under investigation by federal, state or local authorities

1 for any criminal conduct.

2 15. Evidence Affecting Perception, Recollection, Ability to Communicate, or Truth Telling.

3 Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests any evidence, including any medical or psychiatric report or evaluation, that 4 tends to show that any prospective witness' ability to perceive, remember, communicate, or tell the truth is 5 impaired, and any evidence that a witness has ever used narcotics or other controlled substances, or has ever 6 been an alcoholic.

7 16. Witness Addresses. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests the name and last known address of each 8 prospective Government witness. Mr. Padilla-Bautista also requests the name and last known address of 9 every witness to the crime or crimes charged (or any of the overt acts committed in furtherance thereof) who 10 will not be called as a Government witness.

11 17. Name of Witnesses Favorable to Mr. Padilla-Bautista. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests the name
12 of any witness who made an arguably favorable statement concerning Mr. Padilla-Bautista or who could not 13 identify her or who was unsure of her identity, or participation in the crime charged.

14 18. Statements Relevant to the Defense. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests disclosure of any statement 15 relevant to any possible defense or contention that he might assert in his defense.

16 19. Jencks Act Material. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests production in advance of trial of all material, 17 including dispatch tapes, which the Government must produce pursuant to the Jencks Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3500.
18 Advance production will avoid the possibility of delay at trial to allow Mr. Padilla-Bautista to investigate
19 the Jencks material. A verbal acknowledgment that "rough" notes constitute an accurate account of the 20 witness' interview is sufficient for the report or notes to qualify as a statement under section 3500(e)(1).
21 Campbell v. United States, 373 U.S. 487, 490-92 (1963). In United States v. Boshell, 952 F.2d 1101 (9th 22 Cir. 1991) the Ninth Circuit held that when an agent goes over interview notes with the subject of the 23 interview the notes are then subject to the Jencks Act.

24 20. Giglio Information & Agreements Between the Government and Witnesses. Pursuant to 25 Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972), Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests all statements and/or promises,
26 express or implied, made to any witness, in exchange for their testimony in this case, and all other 27 information which could be used for impeachment.

28 //

1       21. Agreements Between the Government and Witnesses. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests
 2 discovery regarding any express or implicit promise, understanding, offer of immunity, of past, present, or 3 future compensation, or any other kind of agreement, promise, or understanding, including any implicit
 4 understanding relating to criminal or civil income tax, forfeiture or fine liability, between any prospective
 5 Government witness and the Government (federal, state and/or local). This request also includes any 6 discussion with a potential witness about or advice concerning any contemplated prosecution, or any 7 possible plea bargain, even if no bargain was made, or the advice not followed, and specifically includes any 8 discussion with a potential witness regarding that witness' immigration status and/or any affect that the 9 witness' statements or lack thereof might have on that status, including the granting or revoking of such 10 immigration status or any other immigration status, including but not limited to citizenship, nationality, a 11 green card, border crossing card, parole letter, or permission to remain in the United States.

12       22. Informants and Cooperating Witnesses. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests disclosure of the names
 13 and addresses of all informants or cooperating witnesses used or to be used in this case, and in particular,
 14 disclosure of any informant who was a percipient witness in this case or otherwise participated in the crime
 15 charged against Mr. Padilla-Bautista. The Government must disclose the informant's identity and location,
 16 as well as the existence of any other percipient witness unknown or unknowable to the defense. Roviaro
 17 v. United States, 353 U.S. 53, 61-62 (1957). The Government must disclose any information derived from 18 informants which exculpates or tends to exculpate Mr. Padilla-Bautista. Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83
 19 (1963)

20       23. Bias by Informants or Cooperating Witnesses. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests disclosure of 21 any information indicating bias on the part of any informant or cooperating witness. Giglio v. United States,
 22 405 U.S. 150 (1972). Such information includes, but is not limited to, any inducements, favors, payments
 23 or threats that were made to the witness in order to secure cooperation with the authorities.

24       24. Scientific and Other Information. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests the results of any scientific 25 or other tests or examinations conducted by any Government agency or their subcontractors in connection
 26 with this case. See Rule 16(a)(1)(D).

27       25. Residual Request. Mr. Padilla-Bautista intends by this discovery motion to invoke his rights
 28 to discovery to the fullest extent possible under the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure and the

1 Constitution and laws of the United States. Mr. Padilla-Bautista requests that the Government provide him
 2 and his attorney with the above requested material sufficiently in advance of trial to avoid unnecessary delay
 3 prior to cross-examination.

4 III.

5 THIS COURT SHOULD DISMISS THE INDICTMENT FOR ITS FAILURE TO ALLEGE 6 ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF THE OFFENSE

7 The indictment charges Mr. Padilla-Bautista with being a previously-deported alien found in the 8 United States in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1326. The indictment fails to allege elements necessary to convict
 9 Mr. Padilla-Bautista of the offense: that Mr. Padilla-Bautista knew he was in the United States, he failed to 10 undergo inspection and admission by an immigration officer at the nearest inspection point, and that he 11 voluntarily entered the United States. As a consequence, it must be dismissed. See e.g., Nyrienda v. I.N.S., 12 279 F.3d 620 (8th Cir. 2002) (setting forth the components of an entry under the immigration law); see also 13 United States v. Pernillo-Fuentes, 252 F.3d 1030 (9th Cir. 2001); United States v. Du Bo, 186 F.3d 1177, 14 1179 (9th Cir. 1999);.

15 However, because these issues were decided against Mr. Padilla-Bautista in United States v. Rivera-
 16 Sillas, 376 F.3d 887 (9th Cir. 2004), they are not briefed herein, but are raised to preserve them for further 17 appeal. (Mr. Padilla-Bautista would be happy to submit further briefing on these issues to this Court, if so 18 ordered.)

19 IV.

20 THE COURT MUST SUPPRESS ANY STATEMENTS BY MR. PADILLA-BAUTISTA

21 A. The Court Must Suppress Mr. Padilla-Bautista Alleged Pre-Miranda Statements Because They 22 Were Elicited as the Result of Custodial Interrogation.

23 The material produced thus far by the government indicates that Agents first confronted and 24 interrogated Mr. Padilla-Bautista, regarding his immigration status, shortly before noon a remote location
 25 near Campo, California. This entire interrogation preceded any form of administration of Miranda rights 26 by the agents by over four hours.

27 “The ruling in Miranda prohibits ‘custodial interrogation’ unless the government first gives warnings
 28 to the [subject of the interrogation].” United States v. Gonzalez-Sandoval, 894 F.2d 1043, 1046 (9th Cir.

1990). Custodial interrogation occurs when under the totality of the circumstances the questions asked by the police are reasonably likely to elicit an incriminating response from the subject. Id. Although questions that include routine biographical information usually do not trigger the safeguard of Miranda v. Arizona, “[t]hat exception is inapplicable . . . where the elicitation of information regarding immigration status is reasonably likely to inculcate the [subject].” Id.

In United States v. Kim, 292 F.3d 971, 973 (9th Cir. 2002),<sup>2</sup> the Ninth Circuit noted that the following factors are to be considered in deciding whether or not a police-dominated atmosphere exists: “(1) the language used to summon the individual; (2) the extent to which the defendant is confronted with evidence of guilt; (3) the physical surroundings of the interrogation; (4) the duration of the detention; and (5) the degree of pressure applied to detain the individual.” Id. (citations omitted); see also United States v. Estrada-Lucas, 651 F.2d 1261, 1265 (9th Cir. 1980) (in context of custody at the border “[t]he factors to be weighed are the language used to summon him, the physical surroundings of the interrogation, the extent to which he is confronted with evidence of his guilt, and the pressure exerted to detain him.”). The Ninth Circuit also recognizes that “question[s] implying that [the agent] suspected [the defendant] of criminal activity” can give rise to a reasonable belief that one is not free to ignore the questions and leave. United States v. Chavez-Valenzuela, 268 F.3d 719, 725 (9th Cir. 2001).<sup>3</sup>

It is not necessary that an individual be physically restrained in any fashion. In Beraun-Panez, the Ninth Circuit found that an individual questioned out in an open field, who was neither held nor handcuffed nor told that he was under arrest, was nonetheless in custody for Miranda purposes. Beraun-Panez held that “[a]lthough not physically bound, Beraun-Panez was subjected to psychological restraints just as binding.” 812 F.2d at 580.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>2</sup> In Kim, the Ninth Circuit found that a Korean woman who went to her own store, voluntarily, because an officer’s visit prompted her to do so was in custody even though she was in familiar surroundings because the police “temporarily took over complete control of Kim’s store creating a ‘police-dominated atmosphere.’” 292 F.3d at 977. This combined with difficulty with English and isolation from family supported the finding that Kim did not willingly agree to submit to an encounter with the police. Id.

1 Here, the criteria for a police-dominated atmosphere as articulated in Kim are clearly met. Regarding
2 the language used by Agent Reyes to summon Mr. Padilla-Bautista, while the report does not state the exact
3 words used in identifying himself as a border patrol agent and to get Mr. Padilla-Bautista into custody,
4 whatever words used clearly indicated to Mr. Padilla-Bautista that Agent Reyes was a law enforcement
5 officer and that Mr. Padilla-Bautista was in custody. The facts that Agent Reyes was in uniform carrying his 6 gun, and in an isolated area with no means to escape substantiate this factor.

7 Concerning the extent to which Mr. Padilla-Bautista was confronted with guilt, he was apprehended
8 in a remote area and immediately interrogated about his immigration status. It is, however, unclear how long
9 the detention took place or the amount of pressure applied to Mr. Padilla-Bautista since the agent's report 10 does not address how long the interrogation and detention took and only uses boiler-plate language to 11 describe Mr. Padilla-Bautista responses. Further, the defendant in Kim was isolated from family, a fact that 12 the Court gave great weight to. Kim, 292 F.3d at 977.

13 Not only did the questioning here occur in a "police-dominated atmosphere" where Mr. Padilla-
14 Bautista was isolated, the agent's questioning bore on Mr. Padilla-Bautista's alienage, which is an element 15 of the charged offense, 8 U.S.C. § 1326. See United States v. Meza-Soria, 935 F.2d 166, 171 (9th Cir.
16 1991). This question in such a setting carried with it implicit suspicion of criminal activity. A person, such 17 as Mr. Padilla-Bautista, subjected to such questioning in such a situation obviously does not reasonably feel 18 free to leave, and thus is subject to custodial interrogation. See Chavez-Valenzuela, 268 F.3d 719, 725 (9th 19 Cir. 2001).

20 In the context of an encounter between border patrol and an individual near the international border, 21 any questioning regarding an individual's alienage falls under the rubric of custodial interrogation.
22 Furthermore, because of the close relationship between civil and criminal immigration investigations,
23 "[c]ivil as well as criminal interrogation of in-custody defendants by INS [agents] should generally be 24 accompanied by the Miranda warnings." United States v. Mata-Abundiz, 717 F.2d 1277, 1279 (9th Cir.
25 1983).

26 In United States v. Gonzalez-Sandoval, 894 F.2d at 1043 (9th Cir. 1990), the defendant appeared at 27 a local police station to provide his state parole officer with a urine sample. Id. at 1046. A second parole
28 officer accused Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval of being a deported alien and called the Border Patrol. Id. The

1 Border Patrol came to the station, and without warning him pursuant to Miranda, asked Mr. Gonzalez-
2 Sandoval where he was born and whether he possessed documents to verify the legality of his presence in 3 the United States. Id. The Border Patrol agents then took Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval to the Calexico Border
4 Patrol Station. Failing to administer the Miranda warnings a second time, the agents questioned Mr.
5 Gonzalez-Sandoval about any alias he possessed. Id. The agents ran an INS record check against Mr.
6 Gonzalez-Sandoval's name and alias, and found Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval's prior immigration record. Id. The 7 Ninth Circuit found that the district court erred in failing to suppress the unwarned, prompted statements
8 by Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval about his name and alias. Id. at 1047.

9 In United States v. Mata-Abundiz, an INS agent visited the defendant in a state jail to obtain
10 biographical information to determine the defendant's citizenship status. 717 F.2d at 1278. The agent knew 11 about the state charges against Mr. Mata-Abundiz, and did not warn him pursuant to Miranda prior to 12 obtaining the biographical data. Id. Afterwards, the agent made further inquiries at his office and within 13 three hours returned to the jail to charge Mr. Mata-Abundiz with a federal immigration offense. Id. Despite 14 the fact that the agent characterized his interrogation as pursuant to a civil investigation, the court held that 15 the agent should have warned Mr. Mata-Abundiz as required by Miranda because the agent knew his 16 interrogation could lead to federal charges against the defendant. Id. at 1278-1279.

17 Here, it is obvious that the information the agent elicited from Mr. Padilla-Bautista, during the 18 interrogation, regarding his citizenship, application for permission to enter, and use of a document was 19 "reasonably likely to inculcate" him. The questions served no purpose other than inculcation. They are in 20 fact two of the four elements that they government must prove to obtain a conviction for a violation of 8
21 U.S.C. § 1326. Moreover, it is undisputed that Mr. Padilla-Bautista was not read his Miranda rights at that 22 point, nor advised that his answers to the agent's questions could result in federal charges against him.
23 Therefore, statements must be suppressed.

24 B. Mr. Padilla-Bautista Alleged Post-Miranda Statements Must Be Suppressed Because They 25 Were Not Voluntary.

26 Since Mr. Padilla-Bautista's initial statements were the product of unwarned custodial interrogation,
27 the Court must suppress any and all fruits of those statements. These fruits include the subsequent warned 28 confession as well as all of the derivative evidence discovered by the government as a result of the

1 knowledge it obtained through the illegal interrogation of Mr. Padilla-Bautista.

2 When asked to suppress the fruits of unwarned statements obtained during custodial interrogation,
3 the court's "critical inquiry is whether the unwarned statements . . . [were] made voluntarily." United States
4 v. Gonzalez-Sandoval, 894 F.2d 1043, 1048 (9th Cir. 1990); see also United States v. Wauneka, 842 F.2d
5 1083 (9th Cir. 1988) and 18 U.S.C. § 3501(b). The government must show voluntariness by a
6 preponderance of the evidence. Colorado v. Connelly, 479 U.S. 157, 168 (1986). The court must determine 7 voluntariness by a close scrutiny of the totality of the circumstances under which the subject of the custodial 8 interrogation made the statements. See Miller v. Fenton, 474 U.S. 104, 112 (1985); Schneckloth v.
9 Bustamonte, 412 U.S. 218, 226 (1973).

10 Although one factor that must exist in order to find the subject's statement was not made voluntarily
11 is coercive police conduct, Connelly, 479 U.S. at 167, "[f]ailure to administer Miranda warnings [prior to 12 the time the defendant makes statements] creates a presumption of compulsion." Oregon v. Elstad, 470 U.S.
13 298, 307 (1985). In addition, such coercion, or "overreaching," must be "causally related to the [statement]." Connelly, 479 U.S. at 163-64. Put another way, the statement must be a product, or a result, of the police 14 conduct. Id. (discussing cases).

16 In a case where the government obtains statements from an individual before the admonishment
17 required by Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436 (1966), as well as statements after allegedly warning the 18 individual as Miranda requires, the admissibility of the statements obtained after the Miranda warnings 19 depends on whether the government compelled the statements obtained prior to the administration of the 20 Miranda warnings. United States v. Wauneka, 842 F.2d 1083, 1086-87 (9th Cir. 1988).

21 Thus, Mr. Padilla-Bautista moves to suppress all statements, and the fruits thereof, obtained in 22 violation of Miranda. Moreover, Mr. Padilla-Bautista challenges any alleged Miranda waiver, as any waiver
23 was not knowing, intelligent, or voluntary. Under prevailing Ninth Circuit law, the government bears the 24 burden of demonstrating a Miranda waiver by clear and convincing evidence. See Schell v. Witek, 218 F.3d
25 1017 (9th Cir. 2000)(en banc)(constitutional rights may ordinarily be waived only if it can be established 26 by clear and convincing evidence that the waiver is voluntary, knowing, and intelligent.")(citations omitted).
27 Moreover, this Court must "indulge every reasonable presumption against waiver of fundamental 28 constitutional rights." Id. (citations omitted).

C. Mr. Padilla-Bautista Requests a Hearing Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3501 Concerning The Admissibility Of Any Statements That The Government Intends to Use Against Him at Trial.

This Court should conduct an evidentiary hearing to determine whether Mr. Padilla-Bautista statements should be admitted into evidence. Under 18 U.S.C. § 3501(a), this Court is required to determine, outside the presence of the jury, whether any statements made by Mr. Padilla-Bautista were voluntarily made. In addition, § 3501(b) requires this Court to consider various enumerated factors, including whether Mr. Padilla-Bautista understood the nature of the charges against him and whether he understood his rights.

Moreover, section 3501(a) requires this Court to make a factual determination. Where a factual determination is required, courts are obligated to make factual findings by Fed. R. Crim. P. 12. See United States v. Prieto-Villa, 910 F.2d 601, 606-10 (9th Cir. 1990). Because “suppression hearings are often as important as the trial itself,” Id. at 610 (quoting Waller v. Georgia, 467 U.S. 39, 46 (1984)), these findings should be supported by evidence, not merely an unsubstantiated recitation of purported evidence in a prosecutor’s responsive pleadings.

V.

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE ADDITIONAL MOTIONS

Defense counsel has received only 26 pages of discovery. As more information comes to light, due to the government providing additional discovery in response to these motions or an order of this Court, the defense may find it necessary to file further motions. It is, therefore, requested that defense counsel be allowed the opportunity to file further motions based upon information gained through the discovery process.

VI.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Mr. Padilla-Bautista respectfully requests that the Court grant the above motions.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: February 8, 2008
